MAY 2020 NEWSLETTER. NUMBER 16

From the director :

Good morning everyone,

The Covid a global pandemic that affects every individual on our beautiful planet. It is an economic disaster, the consequences of which we cannot yet measure. Now is the time for us to think differently to work differently and make sure we can all get out of this bad time.

It may be bad for good. One thing I'm sure of is that we have to break to get all of us back together and allow us to overcome this ordeal.

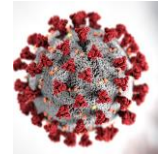

See you soon,

Laurent NANET

Following the end of the lock down, we are still maintaining a partial activity.

We are concerned about our employees and therefore we have implemented the use of gloves and masks. The physical distancing is also always respected. The use of visor in the event of close contact have also emerged within our company.

AEVA company has always guaranteed your orders in a relatively well respected deadline and do everything in our power to continue to meet your needs.

We also wish to inform you our range of heaters which are kept in stock. You will see attached the product manual to this flash information:

- Air, fluid DN 50 and DN 80 and gas heater
- Milk heater

One of our employees has obtained training in First Aid just before confinement and is certified First Aid Rescue Worker.

Visit the next information flash for new information.
